

» RETAIL THERAPY

Sophistication on South

BY AMY CARNIOL

South Street offers more than alternative music venues and tattoo parlors. New, upscale boutiques are rapidly setting up shop along this famed thoroughfare. Sisters Heather and Katie O'Neill opened Mushmina (1540 South St., 215.732.5500) in 2012 as an outlet for their line of Moroccan, fair trade, sustainable apparel. The store also stocks brands with similar, socially conscious ideals. Urban Princess (620 S. Fourth St., 267.909.8317) recently moved to a location just south of South. Enjoy a glass of champagne as you browse through everything from clothing and jewelry to artisan soaps and lotions. Down the block, complete your look with designer shoes from BUS STOP Boutique (727 S. Fourth St., 215.627.2357), which specializes in footwear of all kinds for men and women.

Bucket of Brotherly Love

In its holiday mini-bucket ($135), stadler-kahn offers a curated assortment of handcrafted items from celebrated Philadelphia artisans and designers. The collection contains locally made goods including Metropolitan Bakery's award-winning original granola, La Colombe "Monaco" coffee, a four-piece gift box of John & Kira's chocolates, a Masters of None signature "ill" necklace, a Fabric Horse lock holster, a Girls Can Tell "Boathouse Row" tea towel and a heart-shaped felt topiary that doubles as a miniature pincushion by Heidi Bleacher. Purchase your own in-store starting Nov. 29, or pre-order online or via phone to get a jump start on holiday shopping.—A.C.

1724 Sansom St., 267.242.7154, stadler-kahn.com

5 EDIBLE SOUVENIRS

Bring home a taste of Philly with these delectable edible souvenirs.—A.C.

DI BRUNO BROTHERS

This gourmet go-to since 1939 sells its handmade cheese spreads in mouthwatering varieties including Bacon & Horseradish and Provolone & Chianti. 1730 Chestnut St., 215.665.9220

GARCES TRADING COMPANY

Here, Iron Chef Jose Garces offers patrons take-home jars of unique house-made condiments like Cranberry Chili Jam and Truffle Lavender Honey. 1111 Locust St., 215.574.1099

MARCIE BLAINE ARTISANAL CHOCOLATES

Chef Marcie Blaine makes a series of Philadelphia-inspired sweets emblazoned with city landmarks and loaded with scrumptious fillings like crispy hazelnut and raspberry ganache. 108 S. 13th St., 215.546.8700

LA COLOMBE

Pick up Traditional Coffee Caramel with your cup of joe. The versatile, caffeine-spiked concoction can be used as a spread, topping, or coffee sweetener. 130 S. 19th St., 215.563.0860

YARDS BREWING COMPANY

Before heading out of town, grab a six-pack from this local favorite. Choose from five signature ales, plus limited runs and seasonal varieties. 901 N. Delaware Ave., 215.634.2600

BYOB CHIC

Enhance your BYO experience with these handy and helpful accessories.—A.C.

OPEN HOUSE

Transport your wine in style with We Heart Philly bottle-sized totes in fun, Philadelphia-themed designs. 107 S. 13th St., 215.922.1415

HELLO WORLD

Add a splash of personality to your glass with wine charms. Available in playful shapes like multi-colored guppies, these adorable ornaments are as stylish as they are functional. 257 S. 20th St., 215.545.5207

PINOT BOUTIQUE

Just in case you have some vino left over, come prepared with a bottle stopper. The experts at this one-stop shop can also help you choose the perfect local wine to complement your meal. 227 Market St., 215.627.9463

